Maria Ringer
Customer Solutions Manager

Maria Ringer joined Intervala in 2016 and serves as customer solutions manager. Her role is to ensure that the customized manufacturing solutions Intervala provides are developed, implemented and communicated for optimum customer satisfaction and business goal attainment. Her duties include coordinating with customers and internal project teams to define detailed project plans and manage effective project implementations.

Maria joined Intervala after 10 years with TMG Electronics, Inc., where she served in business analyst and program manager positions advising management on efficiency improvement opportunities, cost and profitability data, program status and forecasts. She previously was employed as commodity manager with FORE Systems, Inc.

Maria holds a bachelor's degree in history from Washington & Jefferson College.
