

Sara Fenimore Director of Supply Chain

Sara Fenimore is director of supply chain for Intervala. In this role, she is responsible for leading the company's supply chain operations across multiple sites, including the strategic purchasing and inventory of raw materials, selection and evaluation of vendors, and distribution of finished goods. She is a career supply chain professional with experience in a variety of technology-driven industries.

Sara joined Intervala in 2022 from ILC Dover, a leader in the innovative design and manufacturer of engineered products for the aerospace, medical device, industrial, and other high-reliability markets. She most recently served as supply chain manager for ILC Dover after holding a series of progressively responsible supply chain and procurement management roles for the company. She previously was employed as a buyer with defense prime contractor Leonardo DRS.

Sara holds an MBA and a bachelor's degree in international studies from Indiana University of Pennsylvania.
